

CATCH - For Children

The CATCH program offers speech and language screenings for children ages 24 months to five years. Parents will get the results of the screening and may be referred for more tests or therapy if there are any concerns. In some cases, the CATCH program can also provide speech therapy for families.

The screening checks for things like talking, pronunciation, how kids speak in sentences, social skills, stuttering, and voice problems. Please call or visit website to learn more information.
