

Adult Rehabilitation Center - Salvation Army of St. Petersburg

The ARC is a live-in substance abuse program for men. Most of the men who stay there don't have much money and can stay for free. They get meals and a safe place to live in a stable setting. The program includes group therapy, support, and spiritual counseling. They also learn job skills like fixing furniture, appliances, and computers. The men help repair donated items, which are later sold at Salvation Army thrift stores. Please call 727.541.7781 to learn more information.
